Few artists are truly global but then again few artists are like Young Sixx. Hailing from California, he has expanded and made a name and a home for himself in Europe. With influences like 2Pac, Jay-Z, and Kanye West, great blazing music is what you can expect from this dynamic rapper.

Young Sixx brilliantly mixes a wide range of sounds and lyrics into his music and has done just about everything an artist can do musically. "My style is like water, musical and fashion wise. I can get into anything... music wise from the surface you never know how deep the water is."

Young Sixx's versatility is an asset but it is his grind that separates him from the pack. "My grind, every artist has one, but I set off to a country that don't speak my language and I don't speak theirs and I make it happen because of my determination and humbleness... just for the love of the art and unlike many artist I can cover any topic, genre and sound so comfortable and never come off like a gimmick or a factory made artist."

With a military background, Young Sixx was well traveled at an early age, which influenced him personally and musically. His musical journey started in Europe, saying: "I started from a freestyle battle in a club overseas in Germany. I used to write lyrics in high school but my first musical experience was from working with an independent label overseas who took me in as an artist, and being around them, I started to develop my craft and the passion was uncovered."

As a result, Young Sixx immediately got on his grind and started recording, networking, and performing.

Young Sixx has dropped numerous popular mixtapes, singles, and music videos and has performed in Germany, Malaysia, Slovakia, and Dubai with the likes of 50 Cent, Cassidy, and Fabolous.

Young Sixx has a very particular career highlight thus far. "My performance in Africa was the best, very informative and educational to see the culture and not to stereotype and be blinded by the media. The love they gave me was like no other... just inspirational."

Young Sixx is still on his grind and constantly in the studio turning out new material and continues to travel the globe performing for his massive fanbase and starting his own record label named I.A.R. Entertainment and a new movement called Eurolife. Everyday, he breaks cultural barriers through his music truly making him a rare breed of artist and something he revels in. "I love how music is the universal language and a passport to the world because of music I've traveled the world... with music you can communicate to anyone."

The buzzing Westcoast rapper has big goals for his life and music career. "I want to be a music mogul like 50 Cent, Jay-Z, and Diddy and make someone's top 5 list of all times."

But Young Sixx remains grounded and knows why he hustles so hard. "My goals in life are to be successful but before anything a good father and present my son with opportunities I never knew existed."

California rapper Young Sixx is clearly on his way to being the next global Hip-Hop star!
